RE: Jefferies Execution Services, Inc., n/k/a Jefferies LLC, Respondent
Broker-Dealer
CRD No. 867

Pursuant to Rule 9216 of The NASDAQ Stock Market LLC ("Nasdaq") Code of Procedure, Jefferies Execution Services, Inc. ("JefEx" or the "firm"), now known as Jefferies LLC, submits this Letter of Acceptance, Waiver and Consent ("AWC") for the purpose of proposing a settlement of the alleged rule violations described below. This AWC is submitted on the condition that, if accepted, Nasdaq will not bring any future actions against the firm alleging violations based on the same factual findings described herein.

I.

ACCEPTANCE AND CONSENT

- A. The firm hereby accepts and consents, without admitting or denying the findings, and solely for the purposes of this proceeding and any other proceeding brought by or on behalf of Nasdaq, or to which Nasdaq is a party, prior to a hearing and without an adjudication of any issue of law or fact, to the entry of the following findings by Nasdaq:

BACKGROUND AND RELEVANT DISCIPLINARY HISTORY

The firm became a FINRA member on February 2, 1948 and a Nasdaq member on July 12, 2006. On November 20, 2017, JefEx requested termination of its Nasdaq membership, which became effective on December 20, 2017, and requested termination of its FINRA membership, which became effective on January 19, 2018. From January 2014 through February 2015, JefEx's principal place of business was New York, New York and it had from nine to 11 registered representatives. On October 31, 2017, the firm ceased operations, including all of its market access business line, and merged its remaining businesses into Jefferies LLC, an affiliated broker-dealer.

Jefferies LLC became a FINRA member on March 1, 1963 and a member of Nasdaq on July 12, 2006. These memberships remain in effect. Jefferies LLC's principal place of business is in New York, New York, and it has over 1,700 registered representatives at its 28 branches.

JefEx does not have any relevant disciplinary history.

SUMMARY

From January 1, 2014 through February 28, 2015 (the “review period”), JefEx offered its clients, which included FINRA-registered broker-dealers and institutional clients, direct market access to various securities exchanges. Nevertheless, the firm failed to implement a reasonably designed supervisory system and written supervisory procedures to monitor for potential layering or spoofing activity by its direct market access clients. Surveillance by FINRA and other exchanges during the review period identified more than 150,000 instances of potential layering by direct market access customers of the firm. But JefEx did not have any supervisory system or written supervisory procedures to review for potential layering or spoofing by clients until February 2015.

As a result of the conduct described above, the firm violated Nasdaq Rules 3010 and 2010A.

FACTS AND VIOLATIVE CONDUCT

Relevant Rules

1. Nasdaq Rule 3010(a) requires members to establish and maintain a system to supervise the activities of each registered representative and associated person that is reasonably designed to achieve compliance with applicable securities laws and regulations and with applicable Nasdaq rules. Rule 3010(a) further provides that Nasdaq members are required to comply with NASD Rule 3010 as if NASD Rule 3010 were part of Nasdaq’s Rules.¹
2. Nasdaq Rule 2010A requires members, in the conduct of their business, to observe high standards of commercial honor and just and equitable principles of trade.

JefEx’s Direct Market Access Business

3. JefEx offered its clients direct market access to multiple securities exchanges, including Nasdaq. Therefore, JefEx had post-trade obligations to monitor for manipulation and other improper activity entered through the Firm.

JefEx Failed to Supervise its Clients’ Direct Market Access Activity for Potential Layering or Spoofing Activity

4. Layering is a form of market manipulation that typically includes placement of multiple limit orders on one side of the market at various price levels at or away from the National Best Bid and Offer (“NBBO”) that are intended to create the appearance of a change in the levels of supply and demand. In some instances, layering involves placing multiple limit orders at the same or varying prices across multiple exchanges or other trading venues. An order is then executed on the opposite side of the market and most, if not all, of the multiple limit orders are immediately cancelled. The purpose of the multiple limit orders that are subsequently cancelled is to induce, or trick, other market participants to enter orders due to the appearance of interest created by the orders such that the trader is able to receive a more favorable execution on the opposite side of the market.

5. Similar to layering, spoofing is a manipulative trading tactic designed to induce other market participants into executing trades. Spoofing is a form of market manipulation that generally involves, but is not limited to, the market manipulator placing an order or orders with the intention of cancelling the order or orders once they have triggered some type of market movement and/or response from other market participants, from which the market manipulator might benefit by trading on the opposite side of the market.
6. Notwithstanding that the firm provided direct market access to its clients both prior to and during the review period, the firm did not have monitoring for layering or spoofing and therefore the firm did not establish, maintain, and enforce a supervisory system or written supervisory procedures reasonably designed to monitor for potential layering or spoofing by its direct market access clients.
7. As a result of JefEx's supervisory failures, JefEx direct market access clients placed millions of orders per month during the review period through the firm without being subjected to supervisory reviews for potential layering or spoofing.
8. FINRA and other exchanges' surveillance identified more than 150,000 instances of potential layering activity associated with JefEx's order flow from June 2014 through February 2015. Ninety-seven percent of those instances of potential layering were concentrated from October 2014 through February 2015.
9. Upon receiving multiple notifications of the potential layering from another exchange as early as November 2014, JefEx began to develop a layering surveillance review, but it was not implemented until February 11, 2015. After implementing its surveillance, JefEx identified one particular broker-dealer client ("Client A") as potentially engaging in layering activity and terminated this client on February 13, 2015. Client A had placed approximately 24 million orders between September 2014 and February 2015. These 24 million orders accounted for six percent of JefEx's direct market access order flow during this period.
10. JefEx also updated its written supervisory procedures to reflect the integration of its layering and spoofing surveillance into its overall supervisory system and reviews. JefEx subsequently engaged the services of a third party surveillance system provider in August 2016, and completed implementation of the third party surveillance system in late 2017.

11. The acts, practices and conduct described in Paragraphs 3 through 9 constitute violations of Nasdaq Rules 3010 and 2010A.
- B. The firm also consents to the imposition of the following sanctions:
1. A censure; and
 2. A monetary fine in the amount of $215,000, of which $18,800 shall be paid to Nasdaq for violations of Nasdaq Rules 3010 and 2010A.²
 3. Acceptance of this AWC is conditioned upon acceptance of similar settlement agreements in related matters between the firm and each of the following self-regulatory organizations: (i) BX; (ii) PHLX; (iii) NYSE; (iv) NYSE American; (v) NYSE Arca (vi) BZX; (vii) BYX; (viii) EDGA; (ix) EDGX; and (x) FINRA. The aggregate settlement across all markets is $215,000.

The firm agrees to pay the monetary sanction(s) upon notice that this AWC has been accepted and that such payment(s) are due and payable. It has submitted a Payment Information form showing the method by which it proposes to pay the fine imposed.

The firm specifically and voluntarily waives any right to claim that it is unable to pay, now or at any time hereafter, the monetary sanction(s) imposed in this matter.

The sanctions imposed herein shall be effective on a date set by FINRA staff.

II.

WAIVER OF PROCEDURAL RIGHTS

The firm specifically and voluntarily waives the following rights granted under Nasdaq's Code of Procedure:

- A. To have a Formal Complaint issued specifying the allegations against the firm;
- B. To be notified of the Formal Complaint and have the opportunity to answer the allegations in writing;
- C. To defend against the allegations in a disciplinary hearing before a hearing panel, to have a written record of the hearing made and to have a written decision issued; and ² FINRA investigated this matter on behalf of Nasdaq and various self-regulatory organizations, including Nasdaq BX, Inc. ("BX"), Nasdaq PHLX LLC ("PHLX"), the New York Stock Exchange LLC ("NYSE"), NYSE American LLC ("NYSE American"), NYSE Arca, Inc. ("NYSE Arca"), Cboe BZX Exchange, Inc. ("BZX"), Cboe BYX Exchange, Inc. ("BYX"), Cboe EDGA Exchange, Inc. ("EDGA"), Cboe EDGX Exchange, Inc. ("EDGX") and FINRA. The balance of the sanction will be paid to the other self-regulatory organizations listed above.

- D. To appeal any such decision to the Nasdaq Review Council and then to the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and a U.S. Court of Appeals.

Further, the firm specifically and voluntarily waives any right to claim bias or prejudgment of the Chief Regulatory Officer, the Nasdaq Review Council, or any member of the Nasdaq Review Council, in connection with such person's or body's participation in discussions regarding the terms and conditions of this AWC, or other consideration of this AWC, including acceptance or rejection of this AWC.

The firm further specifically and voluntarily waives any right to claim that a person violated the ex parte prohibitions of Rule 9143 or the separation of functions prohibitions of Rule 9144, in connection with such person's or body's participation in discussions regarding the terms and conditions of this AWC, or other consideration of this AWC, including its acceptance or rejection.

III.

Nothing in this provision affects the firm's right to take legal or factual positions in litigation or other legal proceedings in which Nasdaq is not a party.

- D. The firm may attach a Corrective Action Statement to this AWC that is a statement of demonstrable corrective steps taken to prevent future misconduct. The firm understands that it may not deny the charges or make any statement that is inconsistent with the AWC in this Statement. The undersigned, on behalf of the firm, certifies that a person duly authorized to act on its behalf has read and understands all of the provisions of this AWC and has been given a full opportunity to ask questions about it; that it has agreed to the AWC's provisions voluntarily; and that no offer, threat, inducement, or promise of any kind, other than the terms set forth herein and the prospect of avoiding the issuance of a Complaint, has been made to induce the firm to submit it.
